Prohibition on Use of Dermal Fillers

The Inquiry Committee is seeing an increase in the number of complaints that involve the use of dermal fillers by dentists. This is unacceptable because dermal fillers are outside the scope of practice for the vast majority of dentists. The only exception is for dentists who have had training in the use of dermal fillers as part of an accredited specialty program and have received approval from CDSBC.
Dentists are reminded that performing any procedure outside their scope of practice is illegal and may not be covered by malpractice insurance. The College will open a complaint file against any practitioner who is illegally administering – or advertising that they administer – dermal fillers.

Health Canada Restriction on Direct-to-Consumer Advertising of Prescription Drugs

The College has noticed an increase in dentist advertising that promotes prescription medications, most notably BOTOX® and BOTOX® Cosmetic. Health Canada does not allow direct-to-consumer advertising of prescription drugs. Section C.01.044 of the Food and Drug Regulations states that prescription drug advertising to the general public must not exceed mention of name, price and quantity of the drug. When a prescription drug is advertised, no reference can be made to its therapeutic use and/or benefits.

Dentists have a professional responsibility to ensure that their advertising is in compliance with federal regulations. All practitioners are advised that they have three months from the date of this notice to ensure their advertising (including website content) is in keeping with federal law. After that time, if the College becomes aware of any registrant who is advertising contrary to this advisory, we will open a complaint file for investigation by the Inquiry Committee.
